A presentation on
The Patient-Driven Payment Model (PDPM)
By Frank Acosta

Frank graduated from Respiratory school in 1996 and worked exclusively in acute care setting until 2001. He moved to the Pacific Northwest in 2001 and have been involved the post-acute care industry ever since.

Frank decided to take this path following his mother, who has been an RN director of nursing in post-acute care since his childhood. He grew up around nursing and feels very comfortable in this setting. He was really inspired to help others like his mother did and enjoy working with this diverse population. Since 2007, he has enjoyed the pleasure of working in some type of management role either as a department head or Clinical Director.

In his spare time, he enjoys working out, playing golf, and spending time with his family. He has four children, 3 girls and 1 boy. The 2 younger ones live at home while the 2 older ones are off creating families of their own.
